

Dear Parent/Carers,

In Maths lessons this week, we have started to learn how to use number lines to solve calculations that involve subtraction. We learnt how important it was that the largest number comes first in the number sentence and to remember that the final answer will be smaller.

A skill that will hugely help the children when doing these number lines is their ability to quickly solve mental subtraction calculations e.g.  $53 - 20$  or  $33 - 2$  as in the number line above. This week's homework is a good opportunity for some practice of this key skill.

In English, we have learnt that when a root word has a short vowel before a consonant (e.g. pat, bet, knit, shop, tut) you double the consonant before adding the suffix -ed. We have also started a two week unit on Poetry by reading a poem entitled 'Bed in Summer' and performing it with a friend.

In our Science lessons, we have completed an investigation to test which material would be the most suitable for wrapping presents and why it would be suitable. We are sure that Santa would be impressed with the scientific vocabulary the children have used such as flexible, opaque and suitable. Next week, we will write a letter back to Santa to tell him our results and make sure he wraps all the presents in the most suitable material.
